

Subject: Annaghdown Cemetery

To whom it concerns,

My wife Rosemary inherited land at the end of the road beside Cuildermot wood in Annaghdown. I now farm this land. I understand the council intends to use the top of this road as an entrance to a new cemetery with parking for 32 cars. In my opinion, it is a certainty that cars will park on the road to our land which is very narrow. I am worried that neither I nor my vet will be able to reach my land & animals during funerals.

My wife and I do not live in Annaghdown but we are requesting as long it does not interfere with the Cemetery that the entrance is changed to the main road if at all possible, please.

Yours sincerely,

Martin Burke
